Our Business Experience

We are pleased to introduce ourselves as Canadian business entrepreneurs with more than four decades of experience in the retail home furnishings industry. As husband and wife and business partners, we have built our careers around thoughtfully selected products, strong customer relationships, and a shared commitment to quality and integrity.

Together, we developed and operated multiple furniture showrooms in Greater Vancouver. Our principal ventures included Lalji Home, a 30,000-square-foot home furnishings showroom, and Michael Amini Gallery, a 16,000-square-foot showroom. These businesses required extensive hands-on involvement in purchasing, merchandising, sales, customer service, staffing, logistics, and day-to-day operations.

Complementary Experience and Expertise

Yasmin Lalji has been an integral business partner, bringing expertise in product selection, furniture buying, fabrics and leathers, merchandising, supplier negotiations, inventory management, customer service, and administration. She previously owned and operated Sofa Unlimited, a North Vancouver boutique specializing in Canadian-made furniture and custom upholstery. Together, Yasmin and Alnashir attended furniture markets in Las Vegas and High Point, North Carolina, to evaluate collections, make buying decisions, and develop supplier relationships.

Alnashir Mike Lalji has led business development, showroom planning and openings, retail sales, purchasing, visual merchandising, operational systems, and the training of sales, administration, customer service, and warehouse teams. His approach combines commercial judgment with practical experience in presenting products effectively, managing operations, and building lasting customer relationships.

Our combined experience encompasses the full journey of a furniture product—from sourcing and selection through merchandising, special orders, warehousing, delivery coordination, and customer satisfaction.

Experience with Established Manufacturers

Our businesses have featured products from respected manufacturers and brands, including Bernhardt, Michael Amini, Natuzzi, Nicoletti, American Leather, Canadel, Jonathan Louis, Elite Leather, Magnussen Home, and Kroehler. These relationships helped deepen our understanding of design, construction, materials, product quality, pricing, and dependable supply.

Our Next Business Chapter — Canadian Distribution & Private-Label Manufacturing Partnerships

Having concluded our many years of direct retail operations in Canada, we are embarking on a new business chapter that builds on our experience and understanding of the Canadian marketplace.

Our vision is to develop a Canadian-based import and distribution business, working directly with qualified manufacturers in China to introduce carefully selected furniture, home furnishings, and related lifestyle products to Canada. Rather than returning to traditional showroom retailing, we intend to focus on wholesale distribution, sourcing, private-label product development, and long-term manufacturing relationships.

We are particularly interested in manufacturers capable of collaborating on products under our own brand, with attention to design, construction, materials, consistent quality, competitive positioning, and Canadian consumer expectations.

As relationships develop, we would welcome discussions about exclusive Canadian distribution arrangements for suitable products, where appropriate and mutually beneficial. Such arrangements would be explored through subsequent commercial discussions and written agreements.

Our Purpose in Visiting China

Our visit to China and the Canton Fair is an opportunity to meet prospective partners, assess product collections and production capabilities, and explore potential cooperation. We look forward to learning about manufacturers' quality-control processes, export experience, product development options, production capacity, lead times, and approach to communication and service.

At this stage, our priority is to identify reliable partners, understand their strengths, and determine where there is a strong mutual fit. We value open discussions and a measured approach to developing sustainable commercial relationships.

Our Business Philosophy

Throughout our careers, we have believed that successful business relationships are built on trust, integrity, professionalism, mutual respect, and consistent follow-through. We understand the importance of clear communication, honouring commitments, and creating value for both parties.

We look forward to meeting you, learning about your company and products, and exploring the possibility of a successful and lasting partnership.

With sincere regards,
